

Introducing Sidecar Health[®] employer sponsored health plans

Sidecar Health is modern, common sense health insurance designed to give members control over cost and choice. Sidecar Health offers the first - and only - employer sponsored major medical insurance plan built on the power of paying cash. Unlike traditional insurance plans, Sidecar Health members pay healthcare professionals upfront, paying the "cash" or "self-pay" price. Studies show this price is significantly lower than the price insurance companies pay for the same service. Why does it cost less to pay directly? Because when providers don't need to chase reimbursements from the insurance company, they often give discounts.

Sidecar Health large group employer sponsored health plans are a win-win for businesses and their teams. Employees enjoy lower premiums with robust coverage while companies save 20%* or more on costs versus traditional plans.

Employees get more

With transparent pricing and instant pay technology, employees have more control over healthcare costs and choices:

- See any doctor
- Concierge-level member care
- Excellent access to mental health services
- And first of its kind ability to keep the savings when providers charge less than the Benefit Amount

Employers pay less

By empowering employees to shop for care with our Sidecar Health member portal and pay for care on the spot with our Sidecar Health VISA benefit card, employers can save up to 20%* with our new large group plans.
