THIS DOCUMENT CONTAINS IMPORTANT INFORMATION THAT YOU SHOULD RETAIN FOR YOUR RECORDS

This document contains information on your rights in the event of an Adverse Benefit Determination. An Adverse Benefit Determination is a decision we make to not fully pay for an item or service. This could be because the charge for the item or service exceeds the specified Benefit Amount. We may also make a decision to not pay for an item or service if we determine it is not medically necessary, or you are not eligible for the benefit, or the benefit is not covered under your plan. You have the right to an appeal if you think a decision to not fully pay for an item or service was made in error (see the Important Information About Your Appeal Rights section of this notice).

Important Information about Your Appeal Rights

Where can I find an explanation of my claim? Each claim has its own Expense Detail Page within the Member Portal. Can I request copies of information relevant to my claim? Yes, you may request copies (free of charge). If you think a coding error may have caused this claim to be denied, you have the right to have billing and diagnosis codes sent to you, as well. You can request copies of this information by contacting us at any of the methods listed above.

What if I don't agree with a claim decision? You have a right to appeal any decision of ours to not fully pay the provider charge for an item or service.

Please complete the Appointment of Authorized Representative section of the Appeal Request Form if submitting an appeal on someone else's behalf.

What happens next? If you submit an appeal, we will review our decision and provide you with a written determination. If we uphold our initial determination or you do not receive a decision within 60 days, you may be able to request an external review of your claim by an independent third party, who will review the denial and issue a final decision. Please refer to the attached External Review Procedures Summary for more information.

Understanding the External Review Process

Opportunity for External Review. An external review may be conducted by an Independent Review Organization (IRO).

A covered person is entitled to an external review by an IRO in the following instances:

- The adverse benefit determination involves a medical judgment or is based on any medical information
- The adverse benefit determination indicates the requested service is experimental or investigational, and the treating physician certifies at least one of the following:
  - Standard health care services have not been effective in improving the condition of the covered person
  - Standard health care services are not medically appropriate for the covered person
  - No available standard health care service covered by the health plan is more beneficial than the requested health care service

All Reviews Retrospective. This Plan does not require prior authorization. All claims are adjudicated retrospectively. No expedited review is available for Adverse Benefit Determinations made after receipt of the healthcare service or services in question.

Request for External Review

- The covered person must request an external review within 180 days of the date of the notice of final adverse benefit determination issued by their health plan.
- All requests must be in writing, including by electronic means. Requests may be faxed to 866-376-2053 or mailed to Attn: Grievances, 440 N Barranca Ave #7028, Covina, CA 91723.
- If the request is complete the health plan will initiate the external review and notify the covered person in writing that the request is complete and eligible for external review.
  - The notice will include the name and contact information for the assigned IRO for the purpose of submitting additional information
  - The notice will inform the covered person that, within 10 business days after receipt of the notice, they may submit additional information in writing to the IRO for consideration in the review
- The health plan will also forward all documents and information used to make the adverse benefit determination to the assigned IRO.
- If the request is not complete the health plan will inform the covered person in writing and specify what information is needed to make the request complete.

Understanding the External Review Process

• If the health plan determines that the adverse benefit determination is not eligible for external review, the health plan must notify the covered person in writing and provide the covered person with the reason for the denial.

IRO Review and Decision

- The IRO must forward, upon receipt, any additional information it receives from the covered person to the health plan. At any time the health plan may reconsider its adverse benefit determination and provide coverage for the health care service. Reconsideration will not delay or terminate the external review. If the health plan reverses the adverse benefit determination, they must notify the covered person, the assigned IRO within one day of the decision. Upon receipt of the notice of reversal by the health plan, the IRO will terminate the review.
- In addition to all documents and information considered by the health plan in making the adverse benefit determination, the IRO must consider things such as; the covered person's medical records, the attending health care professional's recommendation, consulting reports from appropriate health care professionals, the terms of coverage under the health benefit plan and the most appropriate practice guidelines.
- The IRO will provide a written notice of its decision within 30 days of receipt by the health plan.
   This notice will be sent to the covered person, the health plan and must include the following information.
  - A general description of the reason for the request for external review
  - The date the independent review organization was assigned to conduct the external review
  - The dates over which the external review was conducted
  - The date on which the independent review organization's decision was made
  - The rationale for its decision
  - References to the evidence or documentation, including any evidence-based standards, that was used or considered in reaching its decision

Binding Nature of External Review Decision

- An external review decision is binding on the health plan except to the extent the health plan has other remedies available under law. The decision is also binding on the covered person except to the extent the covered person has other remedies available under applicable state or federal law.
- A covered person may not file a subsequent request for an external review involving the same adverse benefit determination that was previously reviewed unless new medical or scientific evidence is submitted to the health plan.
